Hopatcong Music Teacher gives lecture at Westminster Choir College

Mrs. Shawna Longo gave a guest lecture to music education students at Westminster Choir College on Wednesday, November 16. The lecture, entitled "Cross Curricular Teaching," focused on developing project-based initiatives (PBLs) while integrating the National Core Arts Standards & Common Core Standards with arts infusion and S.T.E.A.M. collaborations. Students were led through discussions of how to successfully collaborate with other teachers in developing and implementing projects across various curriculums, not just music. Examples of successful projects were given as well as tips for how to start planning and initiating cross-curricular projects in a music classroom. The college students left energized and excited about the trends and opportunities available in education today!
